The republicans (black and Brown) are making a terrific howl about "civil liberty," on account of the contests had in Kentucky, whereby the Republicans were deprived of the offices for which they held certificates of election, and now will the organs of the "Parson" kindly explain the whyness of the thuseness, wherein if a democrat contests an election and is given his seat, that "civil liberty," is knocked off the pedestal, whereas if a republican contests the seat of a democrat and is successful in their contests, and now the state election of the pedestal, whereas if a republican contests the seat of a democrat and is successful in their contests, and now the seate of the republicans in our cessful in their contests, and now the seate of the republicans of the republican constituents.

the same, he receives the plaudits of his republican constituents.

An lowa Judge has reached the brilliant conclusion that Jabor unions are trusts, a fact that nobody has ever denied. A labor union is a combination of men organized for the purpose of raising the price of what they have to sell, i. e. labor. The labor trust eliminates competition in order to keep wages from the point of bare subsistence, securing to its members sufficient to enable them to improve their condition in life. The labor trust makes laborers prosperous and the repulsion in order to keep wages is the sine qua non of a condition of general prosperity. There-fore of general prosperity of the laboring masses, is the sine qua non of a condition of general prosperity. There-fore the labor trust is a good thing and should be encouraged. The only thing the matter with the other trusts is that they are for the been for the few properity is the other trusts is that they are for the been for the few of the fe trusts is that they are for the bene-fit of the few and enable those few to industrially enslave the many Let the people own the trusts into industrially cosmo.

Let the people own the trusts in stead of the trusts owning the people, and nobody will be found trying to "bust the trust" except the fellows who, under the present regime, use the combinations as a means to oppress labor and rob the public.

Mt. Sterliny Military and Collegiate School.

In an address delivered last week before the University of Chicago our own brave Gen. Wheeler declared that the destiny of the human race was to be guided in the future largely by the government of the United States, and that his observations among the peoples of the Pacific islands and those of China forcibly impressed upon him the importance of all institutions of learning devoting a full measure of effort to instilling a spirit of chivalry and patriotic devotion.

A military school awakens and kindles this spirit of chivalry and patriotic devotion among the boys and girls, and to keep it fresh and strong our national flag shall float day by day during the session over the Mt. Sterling Military and Collegiate School.

That boys may command they must learn to obey. Obedience to those in authority is a lesson that can not be learned too early in life.

All cadets in this inetitution will be in full uniform and under military training and discipline.
